_____	Sightseeing @ University of Glasgow
_____	Sightseeing: Ashton Lane
_____	Dinner @ La Vita Spuntini
_____	End of day

Notes

- The shower heater for Caledonian Sleeper doesn't really work well so if you're traveling in winter, do be prepared for ice cold showers
- Lunch was an impromptu decision at a Japanese place as I have been eating Western food for the past week and was missing Asian food
- The Lighthouse is temporarily closed till further notice (wasn't able to explore the inside) but it is still worth a look since it's around the corner

Notes

- Take clear pictures & videos upon collecting the rental car (especially at areas where there are any scratches/damages) for safekeeping sake
- Plan to start the drive early as the sky gets dark in the late afternoon
- Driving up the mountains area can be dangerous and roads would at times share only a single lane so do be extra alert while driving
- The Oaks Studio Pod is a really unique and comfortable stay but security can be slightly worrying as a tourist (feels like others could peek or break in easily)

Notes

- Prepare sufficient finger food and water in the car as it'll be a long drive and might not have time/places to stop for food
- You'd need to walk/hike a little at Glenfinnan Viaduct for better pictures
- B&B accommodations are way more affordable and convenient in Edinburgh
